

To sign into Classroom, go to classroom.google.com

Create a Class

As a teacher, one of the first things you'll do in Classroom is create a class. In a class, you can assign work and post announcements to students. If you teach multiple classes, you would create a class for each section you teach.

To create your first class, follow the steps below:

1. Go to classroom.google.com and sign in using your SK educator log-in. For most of you this will take you directly to classroom if you are using the same device to access Google Classroom as during our PLC time.
2. In the upper right hand corner, click the "+" sign and choose "Create Class"

3. Give the class a title that is meaning to you and your students. Please include the name of the course and the period number to make it easier for you. The rest of the information is optional.

A screenshot of the "Create class" dialog box in Google Classroom. The dialog box is white with a grey border and contains four text input fields: "Class name (required)", "Section", "Subject", and "Room". At the bottom right of the dialog box are two buttons: "Cancel" and "Create". The background shows a blurred view of a classroom with students and a teacher.

4. Click Create. You will now see a class code displayed, but you won't need that right now. We'll come back to that at a later time when you are ready to invite students to your class. If you ever need to see the code, you can view it on the Stream page.

If you are a visual learner, please click on this video which shows you in-real time how to create your Google Classroom:

Setting up your Google Classroom

Congratulations! You have now created your first Google Classroom. You're well on your way to using Google Classroom to support student learning.